

MIDDLE TEMPLE LIBRARY QUICK GUIDE TO EUR-LEX

EUR-Lex integrates Pre-lex and aims to integrate national law, although this is still under construction.

SEARCHING

The new search system is designed to be more accessible while still being capable of complex searches.

* is the truncation symbol.

Access the More tab to view directories of law by subject, browse documents by institution, or access the EuroVoc thesaurus to filter a search for relevant and/or preferred terms.

There is an advanced search option for specific types of documents: case law, legislation, EFTA documents, preparatory acts, etc.

RESULTS

Results are organised by relevance by default.

Consolidations of legislation are for informational purposes only, and are not legally binding. Check the date under the About this document tab to ensure the consolidation is entirely up-to-date.

The original legislation provides links to the consolidated version and to any amending documents.

Each document can be displayed in up to 3 languages for side-by-side comparison by using the multilingual display option.

Tabs include:

- Information about the document (keywords, dates, etc.)
- Full text of document
- A summary of the legislation (selected availability)
- Procedure information previously found on Prelex (which is no longer being maintained), with links to the Legislative Observatory
- Linked documents including amending documents & national measures (still under construction)
