Welcome!

Vanessa Hayward, Keeper of the Library

Welcome to the latest library newsletter. The library continues to be busy and we have recently added another two much requested looseleaf titles to our stock – l’Anson Banks on Professional Partnerships and Colinvaux and Merkin on Insurance Contract Law. The two new library guides on Parliamentary Publications and the EU Collection I mentioned in the previous newsletter are now available in the library. In the hunt for the remaining elusive portraits of Prime Ministers that hang around the library, I have cheated and had reproductions made of the Earl of Shelburne, Baron Grenville, Viscount Goderich, Stanley Baldwin and James Ramsay MacDonald. I am sure no one will spot the difference when they are on display, but if anyone comes across any original portraits, I would be glad to hear of it.

Finally (although this is an Inn-wide development): for those who did not see the email about it, a new Members’ Common Room has been created in the Prince’s Room, one of the Bench Apartments, with kind permission of the Benchers. It has comfortable chairs and is a place to relax for a while for a chat and a coffee. It is available for a trial period of three months and at the moment, only during the daytime as it is booked for functions in the evenings. Make use of it and it may become a permanent feature.

Government Publications

Gillian Kalitsi, EU & UK Government Publications Librarian

The Library has recently purchased The Official Report into the Loss of the Titanic. This publication is a reprint from the original 1912 archival report, and "includes a description of the ship, the journey and conditions which led up to the collision, a description of the damage, an account of the saving and rescuing of survivors, and recommendations from the Wreck Commissioner".

The Library has also subscribed to a new database: Official Publications Online, which provides access to all official publications, including legislation, command and House papers, Hansard, and bills. Publications can be saved and printed in PDF format. For now, the database only covers all official publications from 2008, and limited coverage from 2000; but there are plans to continue adding older publications. The database can be accessed in the Library, via our homepage. Remote access is not available.

Food & Wine at Middle Temple

Renae Satterley, Senior Librarian

The current library display is on the theme of food and drink. It is divided into four categories: Dining in Hall, Food from the New World, Recipe Books, and Wine & Spirits.

The Library holds a large number of books on these various subjects, including 16th and 17th cookery books, books on vegetarianism, incunabula on diet and hygiene, and early books on explorations to the Americas, which brought back new spices and foodstuffs. The Library also has a number of books on distillation and wine.

The Library has acquired a reprint of the 1912 official report into the loss of the Titanic.

The exhibition also has some items from the Archives on display: supper bills which list the various foods and types of wine enjoyed by members of the Inn at suppers, and the prices of these commodities.

The exhibition features two handouts: a small booklet, as well as four different recipe cards, which reproduce recipes, in English, from Giovanne de Rosselli's Epulario, which was originally published in Italian in 1517. Our copy is the 1612 edition. The recipes are for: salt eel, tart of pumpkins, tart of elderflowers, and roast peacock.

Hannah Baker, the Assistant Archivist, climbing Illiniza Sur in Ecuador

In Other News

For a trial period, the Prince's Room has been designated as a Common Room for the use of all members. Members are asked to sign in, and the room is available to use from Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm. Tea and coffee are available. The Prince's Room can be accessed from the entrance to Hall.

We would like to congratulate Hannah Baker, the Assistant Archivist, on becoming a member of the Alpine Club. To qualify as a member of this prestigious club, one must have completed 20 "respectable alpine routes or peaks". Hannah is pictured above, near the summit of Illiniza Sur at 5263 metres, with her 73 year old Ecuadorian guide, Romulo. The peak seen in the distance is el Corazon.

The National Portrait Gallery has a small display on The Tichborne Trials. These trials caused a sensation during the 19th century. Sir Henry Hawkins was counsel against the claimant, and along with many others involved in the case, a member of Middle Temple. Further information on the display is available at:
