Middle Temple Survive and Thrive Programme - Social Media, What's the point & how to use it - Thursday 12 May 2016. Moderator - Sir Trevor McDonald

Social media is like marmite – people either love it or hate it. However, some of the negative reactions to social media are based on a lack of understanding within the legal sector. Particularly surrounding social media options and how best to select and use each, depending on your needs.

During the third event in our Survive & Thrive Programme we will outline:

- the main social media channels relevant to the legal world together with the pros and cons of each
- how to use social media for relationship building, winning business and for knowledge gathering
- how people can and have misused social media and lessons to be learned

The event is open and relevant to social media converts and critics alike, and will be aimed at addressing the concerns of both.

To sign-up to attend this CPD-Accredited event, please email me at benchers@middletemple.org.uk. Partners also welcome. Members attend free-of-charge. Non-members £10.00 which is payable in advance.

Keep up to date with all Middle Temple Survive and Thrive Programme details by following #survivethrivemt on Twitter.

Middle Temple Disability Scheme

We are looking for practitioners with disabilities who would be willing to provide advice and share their experience. The idea is to build up a network of volunteers to whom we can refer students with disabilities who may be thinking about a career at the Bar, but are concerned about the practicalities.

If you are willing to assist, or have any comments and suggestions, please contact Murray Baker at m.baker@middletemple.org.uk.

Mock Pupillage Interview Scheme

The Inn is looking for members, particularly those involved in their chambers recruitment process, to volunteer as mock interviewers. Applicants granted an interview may apply to the Inn using the online form and will then be matched with a Barrister with the appropriate specialisation from a different chambers. They may then arrange between themselves a means by which to conduct the interview. To help facilitate this the Inn can also offer use of its advocacy suites, dependant on availability.

If you are a barrister and interested in volunteering please email Richard at r.frost@middletemple.org.uk, being sure to include your current chambers, areas of practice, along with any other notes on availability. If you are an applicant and would like to apply for a mock interview please click here.

An update from the Library

On 1 February the library took out a trial to Westlaw Commentary, which will run until the 30 April. It covers over 240 Sweet & Maxwell titles.

Our subscription to HeinOnline now also covers the American Law Institute, which provides access to the full text of the Restatement of the Laws. HeinOnline provides access to a range of American and Canadian legal materials, such as law journals, Canada Supreme Court Reports and the U.S. Code. It also provides access to the English Reports.

Access to these databases is only available in the library due to the licensing restrictions imposed on the library by Thomson Reuters and Hein.

An update from our Estates Department

In and around the Inn every year a great deal of work is undertaken by many people to ensure that the Inn continues to be such a special place to live and work. Whilst some of it perhaps goes un-noticed, we, in the Estates Office, truly appreciate the considerable effort being made by so many members of staff, together with the contractors we engage, to achieve and maintain such very high standards. Within the past twelve months we have:

- Replaced the old gas boilers in Lamb Building with

- ones which are considerably more efficient and emit far fewer dangerous emissions
- Replaced most of the pea shingle paths around the main garden with a resin bonded bead system to improve the appearance of the gardens and make them more accessible to those with disabilities
- Taken back a small part of the Ground Floor of QEB to enable us to create (a) step free access into the building from the rear and (b) a new toilet in the Hallway which is accessible to the disabled
- Almost completed work to create a new Lounge for the benefit of our Members
- Obtained planning consent to enhance the gardens in Elm Court
- Created an access controlled bicycle enclosure in the QEB Car Park which enables bicycles to be parked more securely
- Formed two magnificent new Lodgings (The Drake Suite and the Chichester Suite) on the 3rd Floor of 3 Middle Temple Lane. Full details of these can be found on the Inn's website under the Membership section
- Changed a significant proportion of our staircase lighting over to motion activated LED lights. These use far less electricity, are more durable and reliable than the older style fittings and help us to reduce our carbon footprint

We are now putting together a programme of works to be undertaken over the Summer months. This will include our 10 yearly inspection of the timbers supporting the roof to Hall, replacing the old gas boilers beneath the Ashley Building and undertaking a range of external redecoration contracts. Every effort is made to reduce, as far as is reasonably possible, the level of disturbance caused when works are undertaken.

Upcoming Bar Council International Events and Opportunities

The Bar of England and Wales is very internationally orientated. A significant proportion of its members have an international practice and that number is increasing all the time. Clients in need of international legal advocacy or advisory services in any field of law can find the right experts at the English Bar.

The Bar Council International Committee and team work to promote both the interests of the Bar and the rule of law abroad.

Each month in the Middle Temple eNews we will be including a link to their upcoming international events and opportunities.
